

"Ask Me Anything:
A Sex Therapist Answers
the Most Important Questions for the '90s."

Author Marty Klein

PhD, Certified Sex
Therapist and Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist for 34 years

Question #436 from "Ask Me Anything," page 241

436. Don't laugh, but my penis seems to be too large; every girl I sleep with complains of pain. What should I do?

The vagina can expand to allow a baby through. So if your penis is smaller than a baby (okay, a tiny baby), you shouldn't have a problem.

Perhaps you are attempting intercourse before your partners are aroused and lubricated enough. Or perhaps you keep meeting women who don't lubricate very much, and you need to use a commercial product (K-Y, Astrolube, etc.). Maybe your partners simply aren't relaxed enough to let your penis in. What can you do to make them more comfortable?

You might also try other positions, including side-by-side or woman on top.